

UMS-KAL staff attend self-development course

BP 03-08-2012 B1

THIRTEEN staff of Universiti Malaysia Sabah, Labuan International Campus (UMS-KAL) attended the Organisation and Self-Development Course on July 24 at Beta Lecture Hall, UMS-KAL.

It was conducted by the senior registrar assistant for alumni and student affairs department, Masri Judah and assistant manager for hostel, Ag Nasip Yunos.

Masri said the purpose of the course was to ensure the staff's welfare, motivation and self-development were well-delivered.

"The next course will be held later for the staff to apply their skills for the benefit of the campus.

"The Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP) that is taught in this course can help the individuals and organisation to improve towards achieving excellence," he said.

Masri added that the NLP approach was to boost the staff's morale to be committed to their work and improve their work performance and to utilise their career potential.

Masri (seated at third right) and Ag Nasip (seated at second left) with the course participants.

KIS students excel in art contest

KINABALU International School (KIS) secondary students excelled in the recent Annual Sabah Art Competition.

Jayden Yoon, Naomi Tan and Claire Yip received a certificate and cash prize at the presentation ceremony at the Sabah State Art Gallery.

Their artworks will now be entered on behalf of Kota Kinabalu District in the state-level competition along with artworks from students in five other districts.

KIS principal Stuart McLay commented: "As a school we believe very strongly in a broad and balanced curriculum and art is an integral part of our programme right from our early years classes to our IGCSE and A Level students.

The KIS students who excelled in the recent Annual Sabah Art Competition.

I am sure the achievements of our three talented artists in this competition will be an inspiration to all our KIS students in the future."